

Barren, quiet landscape of the desert

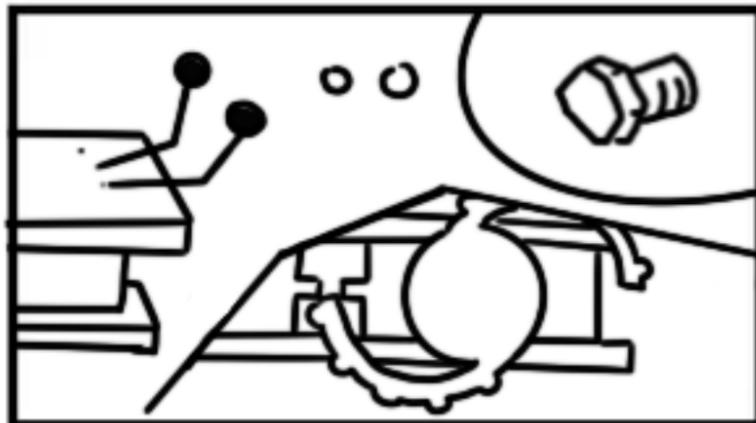

Food source (small nut/bolt)

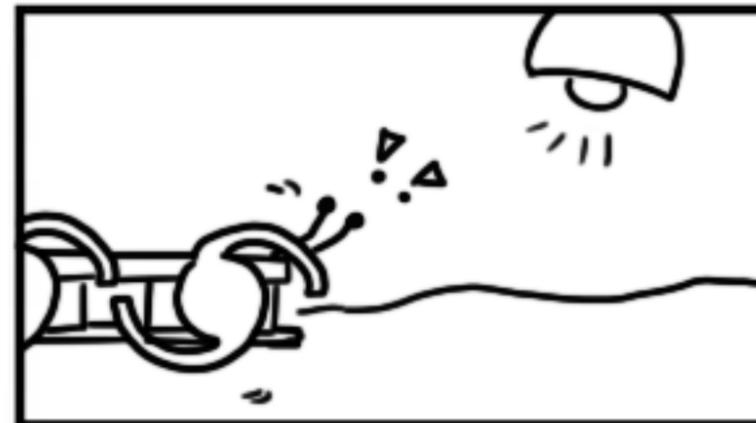

Burrow and the food source

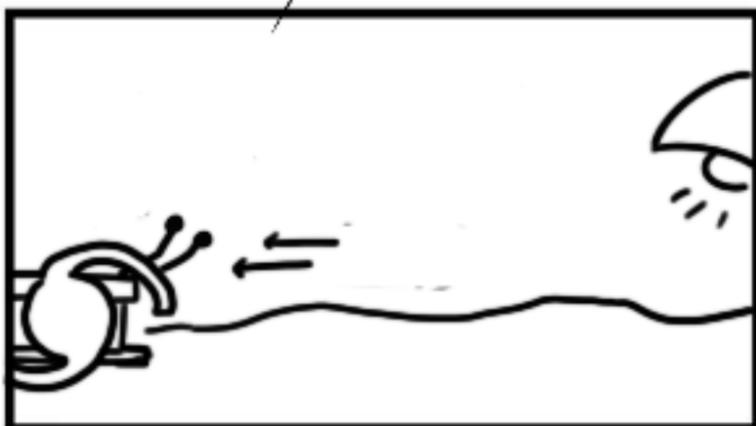

Artificial arthropod carefully and slowly moves out of the burrow

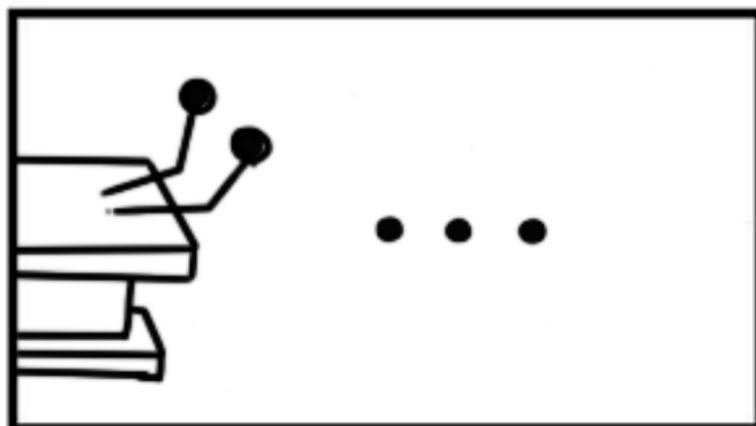

Close-up of different parts of the artificial arthropod, which is excited about the food

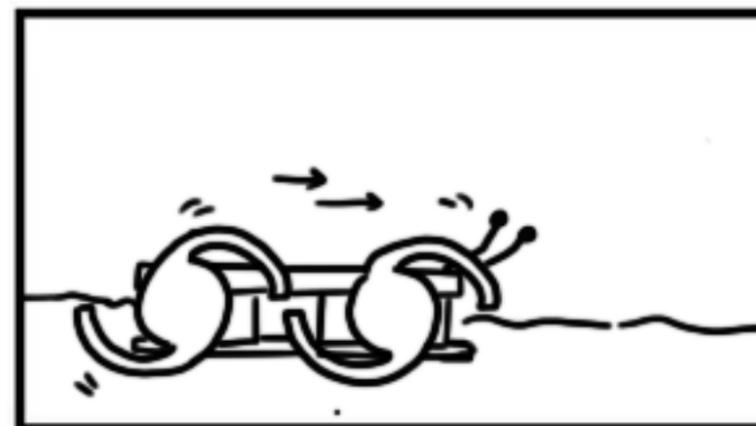

A light shines on the artificial arthropod, and the arthropod panics

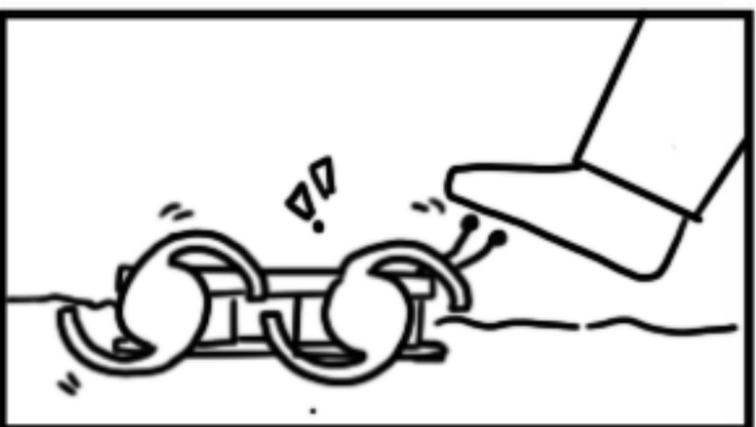

The artificial arthropod quickly moves back, trying to escape from the potential danger

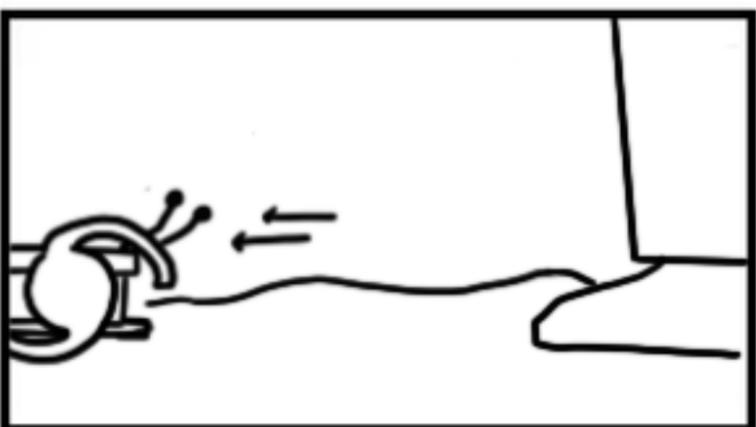

The artificial arthropod stands silent, waiting for 4-5 seconds

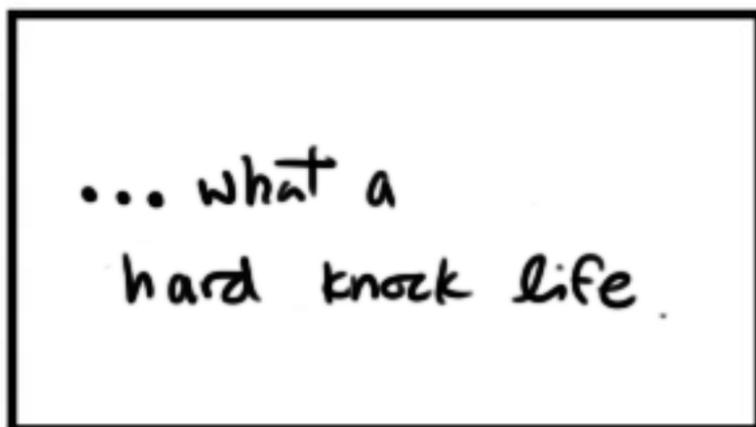

Believing that the danger is gone, the arthropod starts moving again toward the food source

Someone/a feet stomps on the ground, and the arthropod panics even more

The artificial arthropod moves back again
